Yoga nidra or "yogic sleep" is among the deepest possible states of relaxation while still maintaining full consciousness. The practice of yoga relaxation has been found to reduce tension and anxiety. Barbara, a regular teacher at the Life Centre, Islington, started teaching yoga in 2005 after obtaining a British School of Yoga Diploma. She then specialised in yoga for people with limited mobility and disabilities, and has been working with physiotherapists and carers to provide support to chair and bed bound clients. After training with Laura Kupperman at Yogacampus she has been working with cancer patients using yoga as a tool to support people affected by cancer through the physical and emotional challenges of treatment and recovery. www.thelifecentre.com/teachers/barbara-gallani
